GO TO THE POLLS AND VOTE

Whatever your political convictions are you should go to the polls and vote. It is the duty and privilege of every person to cast his ballot for the political candidate that comes the nearest to his ideal in government and your one vote might be the means of placing that person in office.

Never in the history of the country has there been such a crying need for strong, capable and fearless men in public life. It is only by the election of men of the highest type that the country can continue to progress.

Once again study carefully all the statements of political candidates without sentiment and vote for the man you think offers the best.

JAMES FORCE FOR COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Of all the county officials, the office of the County Superintendent of Schools is THE ONE the voter should use the utmost prudence in selecting. No other county official's acts affect the present and future lives of everyone so intimately as the County Superintendent, for it is the job of the County Superintendent of Schools to do exactly what the title states—TO SUPERINTEND THE SCHOOLS. It is his task to see that the standards of our school system, set down by statutory laws, are correctly interpreted and rigidly enforced by the various boards of trustees throughout the county.

And to enforce the many and intricate laws affecting the curriculi, the morale of teachers and students, the business management of an economic institution that has the GREATEST CAPITAL INVESTMENT of all our institutions, requires something besides good citizenship and reasonable education. It requires an individual with the prerequisites of good citizenship and more than ordinary education—the county superintendent MUST BE a man of broad business experience; of tact and sound mature judgment. An ability that will enable him to have the friendly co-operation of the 450 teachers on the rolls of Monterey county and the help of the hundreds of school trustees in the business management of the expenditure of millions of dollars annually.

The present Superintendent of Schools, James Force has all of these qualities PROVEN by his official record. With all due respect to his opponents who are of unquestionable character the voter must weigh their UNPROVEN abilities and talents with PROVEN ones of Mr. Force. Do not make any mistake in your selection. Vote without sentiment and with the same cold logic you would use in the employment of any person to do some specialized task. The BEST County Superintendent we can employ is none too good. Vote for MR. FORCE. He is the best available.

JOSEPH E. MITCHELL FOR SHERIFF

Vote for Joseph E. Mitchell for Sheriff. He offers the people of Monterey county a New Deal in the sheriff's office and best of all offers to Monterey Peninsula and Carmel in particular a full time, paid deputy with police powers, to be at the call of the closely populated districts around Carmel who have little protection at present.

It is notable in Mr. Mitchell's campaign that it has been free of mud slinging so freely predicted by many. He has made a clean, clear cut campaign. He stands for law enforcement; for the absolute protection of minors; for efficiency in the county jail. He is qualified by experience and ability—VOTE FOR JOSEPH E. MITCHELL.

ANTHONY BRAZIL FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Anthony Brazil has the ability, the experience and the will to make an excellent District Attorney. He has made a clean, outstanding campaign free from the wild vote-getting promises some candidates are prone to make in the heat of a political campaign. There is no necessity for a candidate for the office of district attorney to promise anything to the voters EXCEPT to do his duty and PROSECUTE ALL LAW VIOLATORS. Mr. Brazil has made this ONE PROMISE and that is all that any sensible voter can ask. It seems likely that Mr. Brazil will be on the ticket next fall and a more than even chance that he will be elected in the final election. You will make no mistake if you vote for Anthony Brazil.

"VIC" BARLOGIO FOR CORONER AND PUBLIC ADMINISTRATOR

Victor J. Barlogio bears every indication of being the next Coroner and Public Adminstrator of Monterey county although he has had strong and bitter opposition from the present incumbent of the office who has held the office since a boy. Although Mr. Barlogio has been handicapped in the race by limited funds and unable to spend huge amounts for campaign subsidies, he has enjoyed a mounting popularity that is going to put him into office next Tuesday. He is at present mayor of Salinas and one of the most popular the county seat has ever had. He is a business man, an executive and qualified in every particular to take care of the duties of the office he seeks. He will appreciate your vote—give it to him.

ALLSMAN FOR CONSTABLE MONTEREY TOWNSHIP

One of the most interesting contests in the present election is that being waged for constable of Monterey township. There are eight (or nine) candidates and any prediction as to who will be elected depends on everything including the weather. At least one man however stands out very prominently as at least one who will be in on the finals this fall and that is H. W. Allsman. Mr. Allsman has been campaigning for several months and has made hundreds of friends who will support him. He has had several years experience as deputy U. S. Marshal and deputy sheriff and has been prominent in many civic affairs. He promises Carmel a deputy on the job ALL the time and that is going to get him real support from people living outside Carmel who at present have no protection or practically none.

Earl Breaux May Be On Ticket Also

Earle Breaux of Seaside is another candidate mentioned as a likely bet to be in on the finals. As we pointed out before he is well known in some districts of the precinct and has friends here who support him ardently. In any event the race for constable is fast and may the best man win.

GILES AND LEIDIG HIGH MEN FOR COUNTY TREASURER

Four candidates for the office of County Treasurer, one of whom is the present encumbent make it very unlikely that this office can be filled at the primary election and it now looks as if Russell Giles of Pacific Grove and Ben Leidig of Salinas will run in the finals. These men both have a great deal of support in widely scattered parts of the county, and both are well qualified.

Russell Glies will undoubtedly get a very heavy vote from Pacific Grove where he has lived and been prominent in civic and business affairs for many years. He also has the endorsement of several organizations in the southern part of the county that give him material strength, and he is well and favorably known in Carmel.

Ben Leidig has been in financial circles in Monterey county for several years in the loan and investment business. He has friends and relatives in Carmel and Carmel Valley that are working hard for him and in Salinas where he has lived for several years, he has a large following.

The selection of one of these men for the office is therefore a matter of choice since both are qualified, reliable and energetic.

Serra Pagent an Epoch In Old Mission's History

By TOM THIENES

Through a recent act of the California Legislature the 150th anniversary of Junipero Serra's death, August 28th, 1934, was made a legal holiday. At Carmel Mission, where Fray Junipero lived fourteen years, died, and where he now sleeps, the Serra Sesquicentennial observance will achieve the height of ceremonial pomp and glittering pageantry.

Five miles from the City of Monterey, at the fringe of Carmel-by-the-Sea, the old Mission itself will be the background, or, in the vernacular of the theater, the "back drop," of an immense outdoor stage from which will spread a vast sheltered ampitheater. There, from August 24th to the 28th, inclusive, George F. Marion, dean of American actors, will nightly produce his classic pageant, "The Apostle of California."

The pageant will unfold the story of Padre Junipero's pastoral and dramatic life at Mission San Carlos de Barromeo del Carmelo, popularly known as Carmel Mission. The opening scene depicts an Indian village whose tribesmen are beseeching their Deity for deliverance from the gaunt specter of famine. Thereafter are portrayed the coming of the first white pioneer; the natives' transition from a state of squalor and hunger to a condition of comparative prosperity; development of primitive Mission arts and crafts; the arrival fo Captain Juan Bautista de Anza, after his tortuous, trail-blazing trek from Sonora; and, in the last Episode, an historic series of events culminating with the death of the Mission's founder.

The pageant will be enacted by 123 players, with an all-professional cast of principals, including George F. Marion as Junipero Serra, Helen Ware as Califia, Frederick Burt as the Indian Chieftain, and Frank Sheridan as The Oracle, who in the manner of a Greek chorus, will stress the significance of each Episode. Other notables of the stage and the screen will assume principal roles. Rich in theatrical and musical talent, Carmel and the rest of the Monterey Peninsula will contribute generously to the cast of supporting players.

In this great spectacle will commingle graygowned, sandalled friars, dusky neophytes, leather-jacketed soldiers of the King, the sashed commandante, the Spanish governor in jingling armor, senoritas, senoras and senors. Gregorian chants will heighten the solemnity of certain scenes. Spanish and Indian dances and other gaieties will provide colorful divertissement. And once again the lumbering, ox-drawn carreta will echo the travail of California's birth.

Actors Who Will Participate in Pageant, Pose at Entrance Arch of Old Carmel Mission.

Certainly no other production with a Serra theme has been conceived and projected on so huge a scale as will be that of "The Apostle of California." Nor could this pageant be so effectively produced within any theater. It is a spectacle that lends itself admirably to its amphitheater and natural setting. The night color value of the nearby hills and the Santa Lucia Mountains, the shadows thrown by clouds and trees and Mission edifices, the effects of arc-lights and the light of the moon and the stars as seen through the changing palpabilities of atmosphere—all will make for a degree of realism unattainable in indoor theaters. The absence of a proscenium arch will enhance the illusion of reality and give the audience the impression that, instead of beholding a stage portrait in an arched frame, they are witnessing the real-life drama of Junipero Serra—on the very ground where he lived, labored and died.

Animated by their zeal for the memory of California's first pioneer and civilizer, Junipero Serra, all participating in the promotion and production of the Serra Fiesta and Pageant at Carmel Mission have pledged to it their services without compensation.

Any financial profit netted by this project will be used solely for the preservation of a priceless bead in California's rosary of historic relics—the Carmel Mission, under whose sanctuary floor sleeps its founder.

GEORGE MARION AS DIRECTOR OF PAGEANT

Theater-goers of an earlier decade and movie patrons of today are so familiar with George F. Marion's histrionic career that it need not be elaborately chronicled here.

It is Mr. Marion's experience behind the scenes, however, that foretells the artistic merit of the forthcoming Serra Pageant. In the golden age of light opera he staged the original New York productions of "The Merry Widow," "The Prince of Pilsen," George Ade's musical comedies and other immensely popular attractions. Since then his successful productions in the realms of drama, tragedy, opera and extravaganza have been so numerous as to inspire the late Florenz Ziegfeld's remark, "George Marion is America's foremost stage director."

Among theatrical critics there are those who, having read "The Apostle of California," pronounce it not only the finest thing from Mr. Marion's gifted pen, but a literary masterpiece destined to become "The Classic of California." It would seem that he has lavished on this pageant the full measure of his theatrical resources, as if intending it to be the crowning achievement of his fifty-odd years of stagecraft.—Tom Thienes.

THE PENINSULA'S DRUM CORPS OF AMERICAN LEGION MAKING RECORDS

Carmel is proud of the fact that it has several local members in the Monterey post of the American Legion which carried off joint honors with Corning in the drum corps contest in the state meet just closed.

The Peninsula's drum corps has always been one of the best, in 1932 winning the state championship, and missing out in 1933 by a technical error. These high records are achieved by hard work and the devotion of hundreds of hours on the part of members of the team that few people excepting members realize.

Every effort is being made by the post to be represented in the coming national meet in Miami. The biggest problem should the post have the honor will be the expense incident to the trip, an amount somewhere around $6,000. But the Peninsula ought to be able to stand a large part of the expense since the advertising derived therefrom would be worth a great deal more in the long run than the actual cost of the trip.

LIBRARY TAX REDUCED; RATE NOW 19 CENTS

With the reduction of the library tax two cents at the council meeting Wednesday night, the long discussed question of library funds is settled. But probably other questions may have to be settled since this reduction has been made as it will reduce the income by nearly 10 per cent.

The general fund also came in for a two-cent slash, which makes the total tax this year $1.11 per hundred as compared with $1.15 for the past two years. The new rate is divided as follows:

General fund, 83 cents; library fund, 19 cents; sand dune bonds, 4 cents and fire engine bonds, 5 cents.

It was brought out that the sand dune bonds, which will be retired in 1936, now have a deficit of $91,51, with three due to be retired.

Philip Wilson and Grace Thoburn asked for curb and gutter along their property from Ocean to Sixth, since they wish to begin at once the laying of a sidewalk.

Due to the fact that the architects of the peninsula had not completed their plans for the proposed new city hall, no action could be taken. The council will meet unofficially with the architects, however, Saturday evening. The amount to be asked for must be sent to the PWA board by the first of September.

The next official meeting of the council will be held Monday night, August 27 at 8:15, when definite plans will be made for the city hall.

TO LET VOTERS DECIDE LOCATION OF NEW CITY HALL

"Shall bonds be issued for $———— to build a city hall?"

"Shall bonds be issued for $18,000 to buy the Goold property at Ocean and Junipero?"

These two items will be placed on the ballot at an election to be held to determine whether and where a city hall is to be built.

An explanation will be added to the ballot stating that if the bonds for the city hall carry and the bonds for the purchase of the land fail, the city council will order the hall built on the west fifty feet of the city park on Ocean avenue and Mission street.

The city council will place the issue fairly before the voters themselves, with no attempt to "railroad" any part of the program through.

This was the decision reached at the meeting of the council Saturday morning at 11:30.

The council also recognized the organization of a volunteer reserve police company, who will act in event of a threat to "peace and order." Thirty-nine of these men had already been sworn in and Saturday's action was for the endorsement of that act.

Argyll Campbell, city attorney, in a fiery address, offered to meet in debate Lincoln Steffens or any of his followers on the issues of Communism or the volunteer police.

Campbell, along with Carmel Sun and the Monterey Herald, was attacked by the JRC Bulletin, issued by the John Reed club, as furthering Fascism by their attacks upon Communism.

In discussing the rising values of Carmel property, it was brought out at the meeting by Judge Wood, one of a committee in 1924, that in that year the Goold property could have been purchased for $5,000. It was also stated that Mrs. Goold is offering the land to the city at $7,000 less than the value set upon it.

Players in Apostle of California Pose at Old Mission

Brazil has spent practically his entire life in Monterey county. Born in San Luis Obispo in 1902, he was brought by his parents to Castroville in 1907 and spent his boyhood on a ranch in the Moro Cojo district.

He attended the Rincon school from the first to the eighth grade, and then went to Monterey Union High School for four years, graduating in 1919.

He gained his college education during one and a half years at the University of California and the remaining time at Stanford University, from which he obtained his Bachelor of Arts degree in the school of economics in 1923.

During the next year Brazil stayed out of school and worked his way around the country as a lettuce picker, gaining valuable experience and a sympathetic understanding of the problems of working people which has stood him in good stead ever since. He worked in the Salinas and Imperial valleys and in Arizona, learning the trade of a lettuce packer, and today he could earn his living at it.

Returning to Stanford, he obtained his J.D. degree in 1926 and the same year passed the state bar examinations. He then entered private practice in San Francisco where he remained until February, 1930.

In that year Brazil returned to Monterey county and opened law offices in Pacific Grove. He married Miss Elsie Campbell of Pacific Grove in 1931 and established his home. The couple have a seven-months-old boy.

Brazil has always been active in civic affairs. He is a director of the Pacific Grove Chamber of Commerce, a member of the Exchange Club, and has been identified with many movements for the betterment and progress of his community.

"I promise an efficient, fair and honest administration of the office of district attorney of Monterey county in the event I am elected," Brazil states.

LEIDIG IN RACE

Benj. H. Leidig of Salinas, a native of Monterey county and for many years a successful businessman, is a candidate for county treasurer in the August 28th primary election.

Leidig has many friends throughout the county, particularly on Monterey Peninsula where he received his education. He attended the Monterey schools and was graduated from Monterey High School in 1910, after which he attended the University of California.

He gained his first business experience as a member of the firm of Leidig Brothers in Carmel, for ten years. As secretary-manager of the People's Finance & Thrift Co., he moved to Salinas in 1922, and remained with that concern until 1929.

Later he entered the finance business for himself, organizing the Security Finance Company of Salinas.

Leidig's father was at one time treasurer of Fayette County, Ill., and for many years mayor of the city of Vandalia, so that faithful, honest performance of public duty is a tradition in his family.

During his youth, Leidig was one of the most popular players in the old Three-C baseball league.

BRAZIL IS LIFE-LONG COUNTY RESIDENT, SUCCESSFUL LAWYER

Anthony Brazil of Pacific Grove, who seeks the office of District Attorney at the August 28th election, is regarded by a host of friends throughout the central coast area as one of the most successful and aggressive younger members of the Monterey county bar.

A man who has packed a lot of experience and hard work into eight years of active legal practice, Brazil would bring to the office the energy and sound judgment of an able lawyer who has, comparatively early in life, won an enviable position in his profession and in his home community where he is regarded as a leader.

ELECT
Russell Scott
Democratic Candidate to Congress

A lawyer with 17 years experience in the practice of law.

Now city attorney of Salinas, which position he has occupied for six years. Former city attorney of King City. Formerly District Attorney of Monterey County.

Scott has always been a Democrat. He seeks only the Democratic Nomination.

He has supported President Roosevelt and the Recovery Program. Has occupied the positions of Chairman of the NRA, Chairman ofthe National Emergency Council, and Attorney for the Home Owner's Loan Corporation, of Monterey County, at the appointment of the Roosevelt Administration. Acted as arbitrator in the settlement of the Lettuce and Sardine strikes in Monterey County.

Scott was a California Delegate to the Democratic National Convention in 1932. When that Convention was in deadlock after the fourth ballot, Scott and several other California delegates were successful in swinging their delegation to Roosevelt.

Scott advocates, among other things, immediate relief for the farmers, stock-raisers, dairymen and fruit growers of this district; Adequate and Modern Coast Defense; Old age pensions, unemployment insurance; Continued exclusion of Asiatics from American soil; The Wagner Labor Disputes Act as edorsed originally by President Roosevelt and a National Department of Education.

CARMEL VALLEY WRECK INJURES THREE MEN

In a wreck in Carmel Valley Saturday evening Paul Trotter, 11, Monterey, received severe injuries from which he is recovering at his home; Leo Hartigan received many cuts and was taken to the county hospital, and George Wagner received cuts and bruises.

Wagner, driver of one of the cars, was found to have been traveling on the wrong side of the road without lights when his car collided with that of Paul Trotter, Sr., garage man of Monterey. Wagner's driving license was revoked for thirty days.

A. D. H. AGENTS FOR MARVELOUS ELECTROLUX

One of the marvels of the age is the Electrolux, beautiful automatic refrigerator, requiring nothing but a tiny gas flame to produce constant low temperature, for which the A.D.H. has recently taken the agency.

If you think you are good at figuring things out, suppose you try to figure out how a tiny gas flame can produce ice cubes and freeze ice cream .

With not one single moving part, the life of the machine has been estimated at eighty-six years by the bureau of standards at Washington.

The new machine also embodies practically all the "wrinkles" which have recently been invented for automatic refrigerators, among which are interior lighting, rubber tray and grid vegetable freshener.

Mr. Wilder, manager for the A.D.H. will be glad to show you this lovely refrigerator and let you guess what makes it cold.

FORMER CARMEL WOMAN IS ALSO SPEEDY DRIVER

Fast driving helped Miss Marion Hollins win nation-wide fame as a golfer, but she's $5 poorer today because she indulged in a different variety of speed .

Miss Hollins, 41, former national women's golf champion, was going places in a hurry on August 15 when Traffic Officer Elmer Atkinson's siren sent her to the curb at Third and Sixteenth streets. He clocked her at 38 miles an hour—and the limit's 15 at an intersection .

As a result, she stepped into the court of Municipal Judge Frank W. Dunn yesterday .

"You'll have to be more prudent, Miss Hollins," the judge said, severely. "The fine is $5."

Miss Hollins, who explained that she is a "realtor" now, paid the money. She operates the Pasatiempo Club near Santa Cruz.

Only last month Miss Hollins parted with $7.50 in Burlingame Justice's Court on a charge of speeding 54 miles an hour on the Bayshore highway.—S. F. Examiner (Tuesday).

FORCE HAS FINE RECORD AS EDUCATOR

INCUMBENT IS QUALIFIED BY TRAINING, LONG EXPERIENCE FOR WORK

In March, 1922, Jas. G. Force was appointed by the board of supervisors to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Louise Schulzberg as county school superintendent. For 14 years he has cooperated in the development of a county school system that is one of the finest in the state. Before becoming superintendent he was principal of Soledad Union School for 11 years. Eight of these years he served on the Board of Education, so he was familiar with the superintendent's office work. He resigned at Soledad because the supervisors felt he was the one best qualified in this emergency.

Supervision

The superintendent cannot have as many personal contacts with pupils as formerly because of the increased attendance. Four supervisors fill this need, with salaries paid by the state. They buy and operate their cars at their own expense, no mileage being allowed. Orchestras, direction of which was provided by Supt. Force, in more than 30 schools have added much to community life. Northern Monterey County receives general supervision by Mrs. Elmarie Hyler of Pacific Grove. She is a graduate of San Jose State with graduate work at Stanford, California and Chico in addition to her music and art training. She did regluar teaching in all grades previous to her work as music and art supervisor in Pacific Grove, which she resigned to accept her present position. The whole county has special supervision in visual education and agriculture by O. L. Eckman and testing from Jas. A. Walker. Through the capable management of Supt. Force every child of school age in this county is provided with full school privileges and highly trained supervisors.

County Tax Rates

Salaries, maintenance and operation of Supt. Force's office cost the tax-payers of Monterey County 1¾c out of $1.42 per $100 of assessed valuation last year. During the past five years educational costs in this county have been reduced by more than half a million dollars and yet all schools have remained open.

$1,000,000 Business

In addition to broad educational training Supt. Force has had two years of business college training essential to the administration of his office, which handled over a million dollars last year. The superintendent must supervise the budgeting of this money for each school district. As this must be done at the convenience of trustees it necessitates hundreds of miles of night driving by the superintendent in the isolated parts of this large county.

Personal Interest

Supt. Force is vitally interested in the schools as he has children in grammar and high school and one in the University of California. Being a tax-payer he is personally interested in tax economy. He feels that his twenty-seven years of service in California school work have proved his ability to carry on the office of school superintendent, efficiently, economically and harmoniously.

Don't Back Out on Your Handling of French Words

Do not hesitate, then back out and use an English equivalent when you come upon a French phrase which is familiar to you in print but unfamiliar in pronunciation. Learn the correct pronunciation of such terms, many of which have become a permanent part of our language, then step right up and use them, advises a writer in the Washington Star.

Ensemble: The first two e's have the sound of the broad a in "father." In the last syllable, only the bl is pronounced, as though you started to say any word beginning with those two letters, such as "blue," but got only as far as the bl.

Menu: Put the two English words, "main" and "you" together, accent them equally, and you have it.

Chaise longue: That delightful piece of furniture on which one reclines. The ch has the sound of ch in "Chicago," and the aise should rhyme with "sez" (dialect for "says"). "Longue" is pronounced like "long" in English except that the g is emphasized a bit and held on to for an instant.

Chauffeur: The two English words "show" and "fur," put together and spoken with neither word accented more than the other, equal the French "chauffeur."

Table d'hote: "Table" should rhyme with the English "hobble." The rest of the expression is pronounced as one syllable, exactly like our word "dote."

As a general rule, try to give all French syllables equal accent.

Despite Various Insects, They Are Easily Placed

To identify every insect is beside the capacity of the wisest entomologist who ever lived, so many kinds are there which entomologists have scientifically named and described. Even if all of them were caught and preserved, and assembled in one place, with the best facilities for studying them, it would be impossible for the human brain to remember the fine details of structure, color and pattern which distinguish each kind from all the others. However, it is not as hopeless a task as it may seem. In a few days one can learn the great important groups of insects that are called "orders," so that 10 per cent of all the insects can be placed in their proper order.

First of all, the orders are: The Coleoptera (or beetles and weevils); the Lepidoptera (butterflies and moths); next, the Hymenoptera (the ants, bees, wasps, etc.). Following these are the Diptera (flies, mosquitoes, etc.); the Hemiptera (the true bugs); the Orthoptera (grasshoppers and crickets, etc.); the Odonatra (dragon flies, etc.); the Mallophaga (the biting lice); the Anoplura (the blood-sucking lice); the Neuroptera (the netted-veined insects). Ninety-nine per cent of all the insects which you encounter will ordinarily belong to one of these orders.

Why Napa Wine
IS OF UNSURPASSED QUALITY—

Napa was one of the first counties in California in which grape vines were cultivated. Those fertile hills, basking in golden sunshine, with the proper amount of moisture, have produced vintages known throughout the country as California's best wines. The Napa Wine Co., exclusively represented on the Monterey Peninsula by Turano's Market, is one of the oldest wineries in the state, producing numerous dry wines, among which are Carbenet, Burgundy, Zinfandel, Chianto, Claret, Sauterne and Reisling.

When you want to buy a good table wine don't forget to try Napa wine—it is proven—it is guaranteed — nothing but the best.

"Feet of Clay"

The phrase "feet of clay" is traceable to the Book of Daniel, ch. 2, verses 33-40. The symbolism described in that reference has been preserved poetically to signify human frailty. See also Genesis ch. 2, 6-7—"But there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground. And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground."

Speed of Birds

The record for birds is believed to be held by certain Indian swifts, two species of which have been timed and found to fly at the rate of 172 to 200 miles an hour. There is no record on the speed of flight of insects. One of the fastest fishes is considered to be the bonito, though there is no estimate of its speed.

"Self-Preservation"

The expression, "self-preservation is the first law of nature" is not in the Bible, but is found in the writings of John Hyatt, Calvinist Methodist preacher, who died in 1838. The entire quotation is, "Self-preservation is the first law of nature, but too many in the world act as though it were the only one."

CARMEL SUN ISSUES EIGHTY-SECOND PAPER

With this issue, Carmel Sun is eighty-two weeks old. Interesting weeks they have been. When we, fulfilling a long-felt desire, came to Carmel to stay there was but one paper here. We felt that a city of this size could well support two papers, since 3,000 people would hardly all care for the same kind of a paper.

Without encroaching upon the Pine Cone's style, we issued a small "regular newspaper" in which we attempt to touch the high spots of the news. No factions nor persons are supported unless we believe as they do. No favoritism is shown. We make an effort to publish a clean paper.

We stand for keeping Carmel "different." Carmel is different and when she loses that "difference" (and may she never lose it) we realize that she will lose her attraction for the hosts who come here to "get away from conventions" and enjoy themselves.

We made no attempt to have an editorial column until we had familiarized ourselves with conditions here. If we err, and we all do, we are sincerely sorry.

Carmel has grown and keeps growing. Within the past year, fifteen new businesses have been started here. Within the next year we predict an even greater number. Carmel has not fully developed. No one can stay its progress. We can only try to keep it "Carmel." The Sun attempts to do its share toward this end.

Seldom a day goes by that we do not receive new subscribers and we take this as evidence that our paper is popular.

If you like Carmel Sun, we'll appreciate your saying so. If you do not like our paper, we will also appreciate constructive criticism.

Anyway, Carmel Sun is a Carmel institution. It works for and with Carmel and we thank you all for your interest and support .

—The Editors.

Canaries probably will be in any color of the spectrum. Canaries originally were green at the place of their origin, the Canary islands. Howard Cozzens (1)
County Surveyor

A vital element of a successful corporation or business concern is its organization of trained executives and faithful employees.

Successful concerns do not arbitrarily remove efficient executives and honest workmen without cause. Good men are retained.

The highway department of Monterey county, under the supervision of County Surveyor Howard Cozzens, is a successful concern. It is comparable in organization and in operation with any other business concern or corporation. It is owned and supported by the voters and taxpayers of this county and its successful and economical operation is vital to every resident in the county.

For 20 years, Howard Cozzens has faithfully and aggressively conducted the affairs of this department and has built up a highly efficient business and technical organization. The fine highway system of this county speaks for itself and Cozzens' personal ability and fitness has never in any respect come under just censure nor his word under criticism.

Howard Cozzens has done his work well.

Why Change?

Is this then, the time to cause an upheaval and disruption in the highway department of Monterey county and its well planned program for the ensuing four years? Is this the time to remove Howard Cozzens.

It is a well known fact that certain types of paving developed by Howard Cozzens have been written into the state highway specifications. He is recognized by state highway officials as an authority on oil macadam roads.

It is a matter of record that not a single mile of paved road existed in Monterey county when Cozzens came into office and during his term of incumbency 80 per cent of existing bridges were built under his direct supervision.

Due to his executive ability and foresight, a plan of administration and economy put into effect in 1922 and strictly adhered to since that time has cut the county road tax from 40 cents in 1930 to 5 cents in 1934, effecting a saving of $117,000 over amount spent in 1930 or a saving of $13.50 on every $1,000 of valuation.

Howard Cozzens is not a politician. He is a highway engineer of the highest order.

Howard Cozzens is submitting his name for re-election strictly upon his proven ability as an experienced highway engineer and his record of achievement.

VISITORS THRONG CARMEL STREETS

Visitors have thronged the streets of Carmel for the past month, but tomorrow will see the influx of the week-enders, while Sunday the hamlet will be filled to overflowing. The Serra Pageant-Fiesta is on!

One-hundred fifty years ago next Tuesday, Father Junipero Serra passed away at the Carmel Mission after a work that has placed him among the immortals.

To him is given credit for early civilization of California. When he landed here, he was met with suspicion by the Indians but soon his sincerity impressed them and they worked with him in establishing the church.

Six thousand Indians lie buried in the Old Mission cemetery. Father Junipero Serra's body reposes in front of the altar, near those of three fellow workers.

Funds raised by the celebration in respect to the memory of Serra will be used for restoring the church. Its historic value to the peninsula is inestimable.

Many Carmel people have cooperated for the success of the venture and will have just cause to feel proud of their efforts.

NEW POST OFFICE HAS LESS FLOOR SPACE

Even though the new postoffice, located at Ocean and Mission, has less floor space for the public, it is estimated that there will be less confusion on account of the arrangement. There is a large area directly at the front and the letter drop is only a few feet from the door.

There are fourteen sections of boxes and it is said that an effort will be made to give each boxholder the number he now has. Fourteen hundred boxes were asked for by Postmistress Cator, but this number will fall far short. There are now 1250 boxes in use at the Carmel postoffice, the greatest number ever rented.

With the moving of the postfoce from Dolores, which was more nearly central, much talk is heard of city delivery. There is just as much talk against, however, since many feel that to have delivery would be one more step away from "Carmelesque."

With the moving of the postofway, however, something will of necessity be done, but whether it will be the construction of a new post office or city dleivery may perhaps be decided by authorities at Washington.

RUSSELL SCOTT FOR CONGRESS

Russell Scott, Democratic Candidate for Congress, has addressed several large gatherings of voters during the last week. A rally was held at San Mateo last Thursday in behalf of his candidacy at which there were 300 present. Friday night, another rally was given in his behalf at Sunnyvale. After the rally Scott was notified of his endorsement by both Men's and Women's Democratic Clubs of that city.

A second rally at Redwood City was given the candidate at which 200 persons were present, the same being sponsored by four political clubs of Redwood City, all of whom are supporting Scott's candidacy.

Recently a rally for Scott was given at the San Jose High School Auditorium by the Jeffersonian Club of Santa Clara County. Scott has the unanimous endorsement of this strong Democratic Club of 5000 members.

Scott has the unanimous endorsement of the Salinas Democratic Club and the Sportsmen's Association of Salinas, his home town.

Rallies are scheduled at various cities throughout the district in support of Scott for every night preceding the election.

Scott presents a forcible progressive platform which has appealed strongly to agriculture, business, and labor.

Four Tributes From Leading Educators Who ENDORSE FORCE

"... the people of Monterey County have been most fortunate in securing the services of a superintendent so well qualified ... to perform the duties of one of the most important offices in the county."

"... We have found the supervision under your direction at all times of a superior nature ..."

Santa Cruz, Calif.
August 11, 1934

During the past six years the undersigned as an interested citizen and taxpayer, and also as a member of a State Commission for the Study of Educational Problems, has had occasion to investigate many phases of school administration in California, with particular reference to comparative school costs and the organization of rural school districts. In that connection, I have frequently called upon representative county supernitendents of schools in various parts of the state for information based upon personal observation and experience, and have in that way formed a very high opinion of the comprehensive grasp of school affairs displayed by Mr. James G. Force, of Monterey County.

Mr. Force has a very unusual knowledge of the extremely complicated school law of the state, and also has an intimate personal acquaintance with the school situation in every district of a large county presenting school problems of great variety and difficulty. He has always impressed me as a thoroughly well informed and competent official, of tireless energy and devotion to his work, who is on excellent terms with trustees and teachers in all parts of the county, and with a happy faculty of securing their cooperation in carrying on the work of the schools. It has seemed to me that the people of Monterey County have been most fortunate in securing the services of a superintendent so well qualified by special knowledge, experience, character and temperament to perform the duties of one of the most important offices in the county.

Mr. James G. Force
County Supt. of Schools
Salinas, California
Dear Mr. Force:

May I write you at this time of our appreciation of your cooperation in our teacher training plan at San Jose during the past years. We have sent a large number of practice teachers to Monterey County, and we appreciate how well you have placed them in schools which gave them splendid training.

We also appreciate the fine supervision that you and your supervisors have given these young students. Most of them have been Monterey County girls who have been able to save considerable expense by being placed in Monterey County for their practice teaching. These same girls have often obtained positions in Monterey County, which has turned out to be a double advantage, an advantage to the girls and an advantage to the county. We have found the supervision under your direction at all times of a superior nature and hope that we may continue the relationships in the future as in the past.

We should be glad for you to make use of this letter in any way that you care to.

Cordially,
(Signed) GEO. E. FREELAND

Mr. James G. Force
Superintendent of Schools
Monterey County
Salinas, California

Dear Mr. Force:

I was very glad to hear from you and take great pleasure in writing you a few words of endorsement.

I have known you for many years and have been in close contact with your work in my capacity as member of the Monterey County Board of Education. I can truthfully say that you have given splendid service to the citizens of Monterey County in your capacity as county superintendent of schools. I regard you as one of the leading educators in the State of California and hope that the people of Monterey county will return you to office on August 28, by an overwhelming majority.

With kindest personal regards and the hope that sometime I may have the pleasure of again renewing our friendship, I remain

Sincerely yours,

Mr. James G. Force
County Superintendent of Schools
Monterey County
Salinas, California
My dear Superintendent Force:

Permit me to express my sincere hope that the electorate of Monterey County will reelect you to the office of County Superintendent of Schools, which you have so conscientiously and efficiently filled during the last several years Surely the people will not want to make a change in leadership in these trying times. Your fine leadership in Monterey County has pointed you out as one of the outstanding county superintendents in California, and as such I maintain that you should be given preference by the voters.

An experienced and competent county superintendent is an asset to the taxpayers and to the schools. His knowledge of the application of the technical provisions of the law governing the schools, which has become most complicated in recent years, can be acquired by another only after long experience and at the expense of the taxpayers.

Your first claim to the office, however, in my opinion, is your demonstrated fine enthusiasm for the educational welfare of the young people under your charge. May you be successful at the polls is the wish of your sincere friend.

LAST CONCERT SUMMER SERIES GRAND SUCCESS

If one may judge from enthusiasm from the audience, the last number of the summer series put on by the Carmel Music Society was a grand success.

After encore followed encore, and cries of Bravo, Bravo, the audience almost simultaneously rose to its feet and gave the quartet cheer after cheer. Never did expressions of appreciation run so high.

Monterey Peninsula folk feel a proprietary interest in the quartet. It is "our own" and everyone is justly proud of it. Back of the quartet, however, is the Carmel Music Society and to them must go the credit of having provided for the people programs of high class for the summer entertainment.

Everyone will be looking forward to the announcement of the winter's program of the society.

English When Employed by Genius Wins Reader

Those who do not understand the shades of meaning in stunning words, great and small, naturally don't see anything in the corruscations and scintillations of English in the hands of an artist, observes a columnist in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. It is as if one couldn't find any thrills in Beethoven or Mozart or Wagner. It is just too bad they don't know what they miss. Study of a huge unabridged dictionary—of eight or ten volumes—should reveal to them the wealth piled up for the use of the men of ideas and inspire an appreciation of it. Even people with no extraordinary ideas get along famously by the use of this vast vocabulary.

Those who speak and understand English are no longer content with plain matter of fact words. They demand that the structure reared by the writer shall sparkle and glitter like the Peacock of Persia. An essay can't be couched in the verbiage of Montaigne or Bacon, or Hazlitt, plain and to the point. It must have many flashing facets like Emerson's or Ruskin's or Maeterlinck's; or James Russell Lowell's and Oliver Wendell Holmes; and every popular writer of reflective disquisitions on any subject exhibits this luminosity of wit in greater or less degree. These essayists must soar in the literary empyrean, with wings outspread, diffusing a kind of glory over all they say. Their mission may not be so much one of guidance as to inspire an influx of emotion or sensation.

Children Excel in Touch, Adults in Hearing, Sight

Children between five and seven years old have a superior sense of touch to adults, but they do not hear so well, nor are their eyes suitable for close work.

This is one of the points in a report on education, which emphasizes the importance of proper nursery schools, the London Daily Sketch says.

The report frowns on too much "phantasy" or "make-believe." "Their fancy," it says, "should not be overstimulated and should be brought increasingly into contact with the universe of fact by encouraging them to follow their developing interests among real things."

With regard to training at the nursery stage, its aim was not so much to implant the knowledge and the habits which civilized adults considered useful as to aid and supplement the growth of the normal child.

The child should be allowed to learn the three R's when he wants to do so, whether he be three or six years old.

The need for medical supervision, education and training of children below the age of five is considered a pressing one, while the opinion is expressed that the nursery schools for children from the age of two onward were desirable.

The Sphinxes

Like the pyramids, it isn't known who built or carved out the sphinxes. Their approximate age, however, can be traced to the dynasty in which they were built. The most celebrated and remarkable of the Egyptian sphinxes is the Great Sphinx of Gizeh, lying among the pyramids as a guardian of the necropolis. Inscriptions found on this famous monument when the dust of the ages was cleaned away from the front of it in 1816 indicate that it was built in the Fourth dynasty, possibly 3750 B. C. To the Egyptians such figures were artistic conceptions of an imaginary animal believed to be a favorite incarnation of Ra, the sun god. The Pharaohs were held to be the descendants of Ra, and his representatives on earth. For that reason the face of a sphinx was modeled after that of the reigning monarch, or sometimes from that of the queen. Numbers of smaller sphinxes have been found in the sculptures of Assyria, Babylonia and Phoenicia.

Danube River Lengthy

The famous Danube river is the second longest river in Europe and passes through or touches six nations as it winds its way from the Black Forest of Germany to the Black sea, where it empties. The river is formed by the confluence of two small mountain streams, the Brigach and the Brege, in Baden, at an elevation of 2,264 feet above sea level. By the time the river reaches Vienna it has dropped to 500 feet above the sea. The total length of the Danube is 1,740 miles. The 300 tributaries, 100 of which are navigable, drain an area of 315,000 square miles. During its meanderings the Danube passes through Germany, Austria, Hungary, Yugoslavia and then passes between Bulgaria and Rumania, forming the border line.

Rats Are Smart

Rats can be singularly resourceful at times and work together with good effect, according to Wonders of Animal Life. This authority states that these animals will employ a sort of living trolley for the purpose of carrying an egg or other object too large to be held in the jaws. One animal will lie on its back, carrying the egg, while others will pull it along by its tail to the desired destination.

TEACHER CONFERENCE

Several hundred Monterey County elementary teachers will assemble in Salinas next Thursday and Friday, August 30th and 31st at 9:30 A.M. to participate in a teachers' conference which is being arranged by County Supt. of Schools Jas. G. Force and the Monterey County Board of Education to acquaint the teaching personnel of this county with the new course of study prepared for the coming year. Attendance at these meetings is not compulsory, as the teachers attend at their own expense, but similar meetings held by Supt. Force before the opening of schools last year proved of such great educational value that they are held this year at the request of the teachers. It is interesting to note that other counties are also adopting this idea.

All primary and one-room school teachers will meet in the Lincoln School on Thursday and all other principals and teachers will meet in the Salinas Union High School on Friday. Programs for both days will include explanations of changes in the course of study by members of the Board of Education and talks by county department members concerning the County Library system, Health Department, Purchasing Department, Agriculture and 4H Clubs, and Parent Teacher Associations. Group luncheons will be held on both days.

Demonstrations of class-room work by children being arranged by Mrs. Elmarie Hyler, supervisor for Northern Monterey County will include the following subjects with the teacher named giving the demonstration with her class: Arithmetic, Miss Gussie Heinsen, Chualar; Reading, Miss Lilian Lang, Spreckels, Mrs. Juanita Pugh, Gonzales and Mrs. Emma Benson, Soledad; Physical Education, Mrs. Christine Wergin, Langley, Miss Wynona Twisselmann and Miss Evelyn Stark, Buena Vista; Penmanship, Miss Ellen Gaffney, Marina; Music, Mrs. Minnie Prewitt, Chualar.

Mrs. G[illegible] H. Schuyler, State Chairman [illegible] Character Education and D[illegible] Extension Chairman of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers will be one of the speakers.

Mme. Sylvia Sining, concert soprano, who has made her home in Monterey since closing her studios in Chicago and New York because of ill health, will address the group Friday on the subject, "The Child Voice in Singing." This will be a special treat as Mme. Sinding is not only a concert artist but is a graduate of the University of California with seven years of voice culture abroad under three of Europe's greatest teachers in Italy, France and Germany. She not only speaks, reads, and writes fluently in four languages but can sing in seven.

The Monterey Peninsula is represented on the Board of Education by Mr. Robert H. Down of Pacific Grove. The new member on the Board this year is Stanley Krikac of San Antonio Union, formerly a Monterey Peninsula resident. The other members of the Board are Mr. Walter Reed, Aromas, Supt. Melrowe Martin of the Salinas Union High School and County Supt. Jas. G. Force.

JOHN C. CORBETT IS SLATED TO WIN

Increased support in the campaign to reelect John C. Corbett to the State Board of Equalization was indicated from all sections of the first district, it was reported here today by Corbett's local campaign committee.

A statement urging the voters of this district to support the incumbent member was issued today by the local committee.

"This is no time to make changes—a time when the board of equalization is doing its most important work," the statement pointed out. "Corbett has been a member for more than 20 years, and he is thoroughly experienced in all phases of taxation.

"The State Board of Equalization is now faced with the difficult and important task of assessing the property of the public utilities. Since these properties are to be returned to the counties for local taxation, every voter should work actively toward retaining a state official who is experienced.

"Netting a total of more than $120,000,000 in taxes each year, the policy of the State Board is to administer each of the several tax laws entrusted to it with fairness and impartiality. It can therefore readily be understood by the individual voter that Corbett must be reelected."

The local Corbett campaign committee predicted that the incumbent member would receive a two to one majority over the combined total of all other candidates. There are 10 candidates seeking the Board of Equalization post.

MONTEREY PENINSULA ORCHESTRA TO TAKE NEEDED VACATION

Three years' faithful attendance at orchestra rehearsals certainly entitles the musicians to a vacation, that is what the members of the Monterey Peninsula orchestra think. Accordingly there will be no meeting of that body until October 7, at which time work will be resumed.

The members are looking forward anxiously to the winter when it is expected that Michel Penha will come from Los Angeles each month to perfect them in their work.

Mrs. J. L. Schroeder has as her guest her niece, Miss Beverly Wright. Miss Wright, who has visited here before has many friends among the young people here. Her father, Willard Huntington Wright, was well known under the pen name of S. S. Van Dine, famous writer of mystery stories. Miss Wright has recently returned from Paris where she studied four years at the Rheinhardt seminar.

HOWARD D. PETERS SEEKS ELECTION AS COUNTY SURVEYOR

Honesty, Efficiency And Economy is His Platofrm

IMPROVE ROADS

Beleives County Could Operate Own Rock Crushers

Howard D. Peters' platform—For an honest, efficient, economical administration. Not controlled by special interests.

Explaining in detail his platform as outlined above, Howard D. Peters quotes from a number of his talks, as follows.

First—Honesty. I consider that honesty in county government is a prime necessity, in the writing of the specifications, in the awarding of the contracts and in the inspection and enforcement of the work, as well as in all of the various details coming under the supervision of the county surveyor, honesty is most essential.

Second—Efficiency. Efficiency in county government as well as all governments, is demanded by the people today. I will put this office on an efficient basis, will attempt to eliminate waste, and will demand an honest day's work from all employes who may come under my direction. I will attempt to create an efficient and smooth working organization in this office and between the office force and the field forces.

Third—Economy. This is the watchword of all taxpayers in Monterey county. I will attempt to get 100 cents worth of service for each dollar expended, in all departments which come under the direction of this office.

Not Controlled By Special Interests

I am not connected with any financial institution, contracting material or real estate firm, or other business which might interfere with the discharge of the duties of the office of county surveyor.

Roads—In the improvement of roads, the first essential is the alignment and grade, and these should always be well considered before any permanent road material is placed. If more attention were given to these matters, there would be less realignment and changing of the line and grade after the roads have been built, and less expensive hand shovel and shoulder work, after the roads have been built.

Road Material. There exists in many parts of Monterey county, very excellent material for the surfacing and for the foundations of roads. I am of the opinion that this county could very well own and operate at least several portable rock crushers, gravel screening units and loading units, which could be moved from place to place as the road work progresses. This would cut down some of the transportation charges, and would give work to local people and keep the money at home, instead of sending it out of the county. There is nothing new about this, as it is standard practice in some of the eastern states and counties.

Howard D. Peters is a licensed surveyor, and a registered civil engineer, and has been a resident of Monterey county for about 18 years and has followed his profession for about 20 years, is 41 years of age, and believes he will be able to give the people of Monterey county good service, if elected to the office of county surveyor.

FOREST THEATER ENTERS TWENTY-FIFTH YEAR

What a setting the Forest Theater is with its natural ampitheatre facing a background of tall trees, looming in indescribable beauty in the glow of colored lights! Even the moon added its bit to the production of "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," Thursday night, as it peeped through the branches of the pines.

Last week's production marked the opening of the twenty-fifth year of the Forest theater and comments could be heard on all sides that from now on that organization will take no new life. More people are backing the group now and more general interest is shown in its success.

The part of the man who married the dumb wife was taken by none other than Herbert Heron, the man who has worked untiringly with the Forest Theater group since its inception. He has directed eighteen plays during the theater's twenty-five years of existence and has written some and rewritten some.

Eguene Watson took the next important part in the play, that of the lawyer, a wily one to be sure, and he did his part well.

Ellen Upshaw, who was "not so dumb" after all, had a lot to learn and she learned it well.

Other parts were minor but well played. The follwoing comprised the cast: Grosvenor Winston, Sonia Gundersen, Phoebe Anne Neubauer, Sally Fry, Jerry Fitzgerald, Polly Angus, Robert Farley, Harrison Hawkes, Austin Reynolds, Leon Chassagne, Alex McCleod, Helena Heron, Ichabod Gundersen, Lloyd Test, Opal Jefferson.

It really matters not that once in a while a theater group puts on a play that does not prove popular. Large theatrical producers do the same. What matters to Carmel is that these different groups be kept alive.

The Forest Theater was founded by Herbert Heron in 1910. It has the distinction of being the first open-air community theater in California. Every summer a series of plays has been presented. The list shows a very wide range: modern, romantic and classical; from stark tragedy to uproarious comedy, including fantasy, masque, satire, comic opera, children's plays and works of religious, legendary and historical theme; from scripts of young writers to those of high reputation; from the lesser-known published dramas to the most famous in the world.

Aside from its great natural beauty and the variety and excellence of its productions, the Forest Theater owes its long existence and its survival of the depression not to large contributions from individuals, nor to established financial backing, but to its definite community interest.

In its twenty-five seasons over 3000 persons have taken part in the work—in the mechanical and artistic labor of building the productions, in the performances of the plays, or in the publicity, business or executive departments.

Not only is everyone welcomed in the activities of the Theater, but all who care to pay the nominal dues of $2.00 a year may share in the government of The Forest Theater Society.

DENNY-WATROUS GALLERY IS BENEFIT TO TOWN

The Denny-Watrous gallery is an integral part of Carmel. There the Music Society was formed, and from the Music Society has sprung the Monterey Peninsula Orchestra, and the Penha Piano Quartet, among other things, for the cultural betterment of the town.

For eleven years the Misses Denny and Watrous have made their home in Carmel, having come here in 1923 for a "short stay." The lure of Carmel was too strong and they were never able to leave. They spent the first few years as designers and builders and then followed with leasing the Golden Bough theater which they used to fill to overflowing with their excellent shows.

The present location on Dolores has been the center for the past four years of artists, musicians, actors and dancers, and people who were interested in their work.

"The Drunkard" which has won such popularity, first played in the Denny-Watrous gallery.

Without the Denny-Watrous gallery, Carmel music lovers would likely not have the opportunity to enjoy the open rehearsals which bring pleasure to so many.

Without the Denny-Watrous gallery, many who have come to Carmel as strangers would not have been able to meet congenial friends and become a part of the social life of the town.

The list of good things Misses Denny and Watrous have been instrumental in bringing to Carmel is a long one. Suffice it is to say we wish for them good luck for their own sake and that of the town.

SUNSET SCHOOL OPENS TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 4

When school opens Tuesday, September 4th, the pupils will find that some interesting improvements have been accomplished by providing a drinking fountain for the boys' playfield, an incinerator of an approved type connected to the kiln flue on Mission street, painting playfield apparatus, and making each classroom spick and span for the arrival of its lively occupants.

Mr. Bardarson, principal, has heard from several of the teachers and all appear to be eager to be back to assume their teaching duties at the Sunset School.

Children 4½ years of age may be admitted to the kindergarten which children must be five years and 9 months to enter the first grade. Complete details as to the opening of school will appear in a later issue of the Sun.

Miss Loretta Ross and Miss Bernice Jones of Los Angeles are guests at the Rancho Carmelo. Moonlight rides and early morning rides are being planned for their pleasure.

Dr. and Mrs. Gray, unable to go to Oakland this month are counting the minutes until they can make a visit to the newest arrival.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor? For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever." These words from Romans comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Mind." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God" (Rom. 12:2).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "The term Science, properly understood, refers only to the laws of God and to His government of the universe, inclusive of man . . . . The human mind, imbued with this spiritual understanding, becomes more elastic, is capable of greater endurance, escapes somewhat from itself and requires less repose. A knowledge of the Science of being develops the latent abilities and possibilities of man" (p. 128).

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Warner have as their guests this week their granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cramer of San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Cramer were married last January and this being the first chance they have had to leave the city, they call their stay here their honeymoon. Mrs. Cramer was Miss Donna Versell.

CORBETT BELIEVES IN EQUAL TREATMENT

John C. Corbett of San Francisco, member of the State Board of Equalization, seeking re-election to his position at the August 28th primary election, has been one of the most efficient of public officials and he is deserving of the vote of every taxpayer in the First District, said Mr. William H. Metson, chairman of the Corbett campaign committee, yesterday.

"Mr. Corbett should be returned to office on his record," continued Mr. Metson. "He has served the people of San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, Monterey, San Benito and San Luis Obispo counties, as well as other counties of the state well. He has been faithful to the interests of all the people of whatever class. 'A Square Deal' has ever been the policy of this experienced official. It is certain to be his policy in the future.

"Throughout the years that Mr. Corbett has served on the Board of Equalization it has been his constant aim to adhere steadfastly to the principle that faithful tax administration requires absolute equality of treatment of everyone. That's John C. Corbett's platform."

GEORGE J. HATFIELD OPPOSES HEAVY TAX

Endorsing the candidacy of George J. Hatfield for the office of lieutenant governor of California, the Palo Alto Times says: "This newspaper can speak on the basis of a long personal acquaintance and a thorough appreciation of his qualifications. Outstanding mentality, marked courage, resourcefulness, and a devoted interest to the rights of the average citizens in opposition to the special welfare of the privileged and powerful are traits that are offered to the public service in his candidacy.

"The over-burdened taxpayer will find solace in Mr. Hatfield's statement of policy on the point of taxation: "I am firmly opposed to the imposition of any additional tax burden on the homeowner, the farmer, or the common property taxpayers generally, and will oppose any effort to levy an ad valorem, or direct property tax to meet the state deficit.' (There have been, you know, threats of such an ad valorem tax)."

AFTER CONTINUED REQUESTS THAT HER POTTERY FLOWERS BE MORE WIDELY KNOWN AND DISTRIBUTED, MISS F. TERRY IS CLOSING HER RETAIL STORE IN CARMEL AT THE END OF AUGUST. HER FLOWERS MAY BE OBTAINED AT THE PINAFORE PLAYHOUSE FOR THE PRESENT, AND ORDERS WILL BE TAKEN THERE.

STORY BY HUGHES IN WOMAN'S MAGAZINE

Truly the national magazines must be printed several months in advance, else the Woman's Home Companion, with the late hue and cry that has been raised against Communism, would never have published a story in the September issue by Langston Hughes, negro Communist .

Hughes writes of Bukhara before the "great Russian Revolution" and compares it to the heaven it is supposed to have become since that time. He says in one paragraph:

"That strange Bolshevik revolution commenced at once smashing the customs of hundreds and hundreds of years, shattering the oldest traditions of the Orient, deposing beys and emirs, unfrocking mullahs, educating children and freeing women."

The last paragraph reads:

"Now she lives alone with the child she bore. She works in the red tea houses with the posters of Lenin and its slogans of Stalin on the wall. She has a little home. She comes and goes as she chooses. She doesn't often think of the Emir and his harem. If she does she probably calls him an old 'bourgeois,' which is as insulting a term as one can use in a Soviet state."

A representative of the American Legion called at the Sun office a few days ago and in conversation about Communism, he said, "You have no idea until you begin making investigations just how thoroughly this doctrine has been spread."

Perhaps one doesn't know, after all. When women's magazines print stories to impress on their readers, consciously or subconsciously, what the revolution did for the women, that is serious. Women's magazines hitherto were supposed to stand for a high grade of civilization and Americansim in the American homes.

Langston Hughes has been a very "distinguished" guest in Carmel—not that the town is proud of it. He has been the guest of "honor" at parties. Whites were invited—a "select" few—to bask in his wisdom. White girls have ridden down the street with him, have walked with him, smiling n- to his face. And the Woman's Home Companion and other magazines which should be standing for America, have spread his Communistic doctrines to the thousands and thousands of American homes. Russia would be a good place for Hughes. It was rumored here recently that his own race in this city gave him notice to leave. They would have none of him and his teachings.

In a meeting at the colored Baptist church in Pacific Grove last spring, Hughes was asked to make a talk. He made it. But it was not about the religion that the colored folks love so well. It was about Russia where God is denied. That, he attempted to show them, was heaven—almost. The brethren didn't like his talk, especially after Senator Tickle followed him with the truth of the matter and explained to them how Russia has overthrown the very things they worship .Hughes was not popular with them after that night.

There is no excuse for the national magazines to have printed these stories on Communism by Hughes. There are good clean Americans who write good clean stories that are returned with slips of regrets, etc.

It will be interesting to note whether stores with their insidious suggestions continue to be run in the national magazines now that the American people are awake to what the communists are doing all through the nation.—E. F. B.

PACIFIC GROVE LAD COMING FINANCIER

Mrs. Sarah E. White, candidate for county superintendent of schools, tells this one of three young lads of Pacific Grove.

"Pin one of those on my back," said a young boy. Mrs. White obliged him. "I wore one for Mr. Brazil and he gave me a dime," the lad volunteered. "Well, I'll give you a nickel," Mrs. White tod him and passed on down the street. In a few minutes her employe rushed up with another lad who received the same job and the same fee and in a short time still another with the same results.

Later a friend told Mrs. White that a man said to the first boy, "I'll give you a nickel to take that off," and the boy promptly took it off, but when the man passed around the corner, the financier said to still another bystander, "I'll put it back on again for a nickel." And put it on again he did and wore it all day. High finance!

The productive capacity of this country would be measurably expanded if not so many persons had to be set to watch the others.

New Home of C. L. Wilder in Robles del Rio

C. L. Wilder, manager of the A. D. H. Plumbing company has just finished a cozy and comfortable house in Robles del Rio near the Immelman and the Hanley cottages and the Wilder family is reveling in their new home. The house is modern in every respect with an extra large living room having a fireplace that is a real joy. A screened-in porch runs the full length of two sides of the house and provides sleeping accomodations for several guests and this is a prediction that the Wilders will need lots of room since they have so many friends and Robles del Rio is such a gorgeous place to be for a day or for ever.

T. J. BARKLE SEEKS COUNTY SCHOOL POST

T. J. Barkle, backed to a remarkable degree by Monterey Peninsula citizens, has had a most unique preparation for such a position as County Superintendent of Schools, for which he is a candidate at the August 28th primary election.

In addition to his university training at Northwestern University he took postgraduate work at Cambridge, England, and the University of Edinburgh.

While at Evanston he sang in the University Glee Club and won scholarship for voice at the Chicago Musical College. He also was a student at the Cumnock school of oratory, and is a speaker of rare charm.

Mr. Barkle has taken work at the U. C. College of Agriculture at Davis.

He has poise, is easily approached and has a personality which radiates good cheer.

McDONALD'S DAIRY IS OLD LANDMARK

Ode to a Milk Shrine

Oh! you little shrine of mine
Every morning, rain or shine,
In my shirt-tail, out I chase
For some milk to feed my face
Urged on by my wife I speed
For the milk and cream we need.

Everybody stands in line,
Getting their milk at the shrine
Then they all go back again
Girls, boys, babies, women, men.
So with milk and cream I trot
Back toward the coffee pot.

By this time breakfast's heated
And is ready to be eated
Then when hunger's put to rout
Off to work I start rightout.

by L. S. Slevin.

The above poem may not be so elegant, but it is eloquent. Eloquent of the old days when neighbor met neighbor at the shrine and passed the time of day, learned who was doing what and perhaps returned home to whisper that the "Jones family gets only a quart of milk a day and they have three children." Or maybe they didn't gossip in Carmel then.

The shrines were the idea of Perry McDonald, of McDonald's Dairy, who gave his customers their choice of allowing him to deliver milk at depots, or an advance in the price of milk, which stand other dairies were taking. Carmel folk chose the shrines as in keeping with the simple life here. These shrines later were toasted in poem and song and their fame spread abroad.

The shrines, with the exception of a very few, are extinct, but not so McDonald's Dairy. McDonald's sides the old timers Mr. McDonald served then, he now serves hundreds of those who have come in these later years lured by Carmel's loveliness.

Mr. McDonald began business here in 1915, and with the exception of five years spent away from here, he has served the Carmel people with good wholesome milk and cream. He is located at the corner of Seventh and San Carlos. Dairy is running full force and be-

SARAH E. WHITE ASKS YOUR SUPPORT

The time has come when people desire a change in most of the political offices. The Supt. of Schools is no exception. Men have monopolized this office for years, but intelligent people no longer discriminate against women superintendents, for they know women have proven themselves innately fitted for training children, most helpful to young teachers (especially young women), good principals and excellent superintendents.

These qualifications are particularly true of Sarah E. White, one of the finest characters and most competent teachers in Monterey County.

Mrs. White was principal of Sunset School, Carmel, four years and laid the foundation of that school, which is perhaps the most famous school in Monterey County.

Her pupils and the people who know her worth are her most ardent supporters. She taught successfully in Kern County and other counteis each year with an increase in salary. One of her professors recommended her thus: "She is worth her weight in gold to the children of California."

FAMOUS SPANISH DANCERS, CANSINO AND ARAGON, HERE THIS WEEK

As part of the Amusement Calendar of the Serra Pageant, the Denny-Watrous Gallery has secured the famous Spanish Dancing Pair, Jose Cansino and Tonia De Aragon, who will appear in two entirely different dance programs in the Sunset School Auditorium Saturday and Sunday nights of this week, August 25 and 26.

Jose Cansino is one of nine of the Cansino brothers and sisters—all of them dancers, so that the Cansino name is known throughout this country as well as in Spain as synonymous with the Dance. Antonio Cansino, the father, is Spain's best-known master and teacher of authentic Spanish dances. The children have danced since they were four years old—Jose danced in Madrid at that age—and this steady training shows in the sureness of attack and mastery of technique.

Tonia de Aragon showed such amazing gifts for the dance as a child, that she became a protege fo Elisa Cansino, and was practically brought up with the Cansino family. Tonia and Jose have danced together so much that they make a perfect dancing team—with complete sensitiveness to one another's movements. Their grace and beauty, freshness of youth, and their ravishingly beautiful tunes make a dance program full of exotic color and fascinating charm.

These two famous dancers appeared in San Francisco last season, dancing in the War Memorial Opera House, and, according to Alexader Fried of the San Francisco Chronicle, "aroused extraordinary applause." Each dance is a gem, set like a brilliant jewel, done inimitably now by the pair, and now in solo. Their costumes, which are so much a part of the Spanish dance, are notable in every way.

The fact that 31,148 coolies migrated from China to Manchukuo during the month of May looks as if some Chinese, at any rate, are reconciled to the status quo.
